About the Academy

The Yashwantrao Chavan Academy of Development Administration (YASHADA) was established by the Government of Maharashtra to impart training to government officials and elected representatives, conduct research and suggest policy recommendations.

Maharashtra was one of the first states in the country to realise the importance of human resources development. The early sixties witnessed the establishment of the Administrative Staff College (ASC) in Mumbai, under the inspiration of former Chief Minister of Maharashtra and Deputy Prime Minister of India, Shri Y B Chavan. In 1984, it shifted its location to Pune, and was named the Maharashtra Institute of Development Administration or MIDA. Its main objective was to serve as the apex body in the promotion and development of modern management science, and function as the nodal state level training institute in the field of development administration. After six successful years, on the 26th of November, 1990, MIDA graduated into an Academy with a new name... YASHADA.

Government of Maharashtra - State Training Policy

In order to enhance the administrative effectiveness and efficiency in work of all the Government Officers and staff, Government of Maharashtra has approved State Training Policy (STP). The State Training Planning and Evaluation Agency (STPEA) established at YASHADA, plans, co-ordinates and evaluates the training functions of state, regional and district level Administrative Training Institutes Departmental Training Institutes.

The Academy has been provided the mandate to coordinate the implementation and monitoring of the State Training Policy (STP) with all departments of the GoM and to coordinate training programmes through the nearly 108 training institutes of various departments.

A Comprehensive government-resolution (GR) dated 23 September 2011 (No. टीआरएल-०६ / व. क. ३२ / ज० २०११-१२) has been issued on State Training Policy, under which 16 to 17 lakh Government employees will be imparted training at Regional/ Divisional and District Training Institutes.

Activities

- To implement the state training policy effectively
- To conduct Trainer Development Courses and Human Resource courses in the Trainer Development Programme (TDP) for the faculties of all the training institutes
- To co-ordinate with the state level DTH and HoDs / TMs/ATMs of the Government of Maharashtra
- To plan the training function of the State by using the State Training Planning and Management Software (STPMS)
- To support BPR related activities of government offices/departments on demand basis.
- To monitor quality control activities of Training Planning and Monitoring Cell (TPMCs) related to the training of all the training institutes.
- To co-ordinate with the Departmental/ State, Regional, District, Block level Liaison Officers of Administrative and Departmental Training Institutes.

Providing training to all employees in the state to increase efficiency at every level in the state Government service and to make the administration more dynamic has become crucial. Training has also become essential to face the challenges arising out of economic, social, political and technical changes and to attain flexibility in the administration necessary for the change. At present the function of extending training is being carried out at different levels and to introduce an element of uniformity in the training function of state as well as modernize the existing training institutes. In view of this, the issue of framing of the Training Policy was under consideration of the government of Maharashtra.

The State Training Policy was discussed in detail at a meeting of the Cabinet of Ministers of the GoM and thereafter approved. This meeting and the GR has specifically recommended that the Academy should evolve and obtain the status of University. A separate clause in the GR stipulates this path forward.

To ensure standardized quality of inputs and also to cater to the needs of all class of officers and employees as a part of the structured- organised training system, the proposed state training policy suggests setting up of Regional Training Institutes at the 6 divisions - Aurangabad, Amravati, Nagpur, Nasik, Konkan and Pune. Yashada has initiated a dialogue with all divisional commissioners and requested them to identify suitable institutes, which can function as Regional Training Institutes.

The central theme of the State Training Policy includes:

- Training for all,
- Continuous training,
- Need based training,

The administrative wing is headed by the Registrar and works directly under the control and supervision of the Director General. Various sections of the wing directly or indirectly provide all the support services required for training, research, consultancy and publications related activities carried out by the Academy. It provides various services, including - Recruitment of personnel and establishment matters, Finance and maintenance of accounts, Maintenance and regulation of services of contractors and suppliers, and Maintenance of hostel, mess, sanitary and medical services, among others.
Good Governance implies honest, transparent, accountable, responsive, and participative and people friendly administrative policies and actions. Since independence, the focus of governance has shifted from maintenance of law and order to Development Administration and in the post reform era to the harnessing and regulation of market forces. The shift in Government policies notwithstanding, citizen centric administration is the key for Good Governance.

Why are we not participative? Why do we resist if citizens want to be involved in the process of governance? Are we effective and efficient? What has motivated some of us to respond to the new challenges and innovate? These are some of the issue that are frequently debated in YASHADA, the premier training institute of the Government of Maharashtra. To analyze the process of policy formulation and implementation within the framework of Good Governance is the basic mandate of ATI. It was formerly known as Public System Administration/Centre for Good Governance. It provides basic training to directly recruited Class-I officers of Government of Maharashtra viz. Tahsildars, Deputy Collectors, Sales Tax Officers and Officers from Maharashtra Development Services.

Mission

Rural Development is one of the important components of YASHADA’s mission. At the State Institute of Rural Development, we firmly believe that development can only be achieved by building human capital. Today, in the rural sector, there is vast unfulfilled scope for doing so by way of capacity building of officials of government department and of the Panchayati Raj institution, NGOs and other professionals in the agriculture and animal husbandry sectors, in co-operation, rural micro finance and self-help groups.

Mandate

SIRD is committed to capacity building, research and consultancy in the entire spectrum of development activities in the rural sector. Documentation of innovation work done also forms an important part of our mission. Our training programmes are intended to create a knowledge base, to disseminate information so gathered and to develop the human resource management skills and the financial project management skills, which are so important to success in a wide variety of tasks. For government officials in particular, our focus is on sensitizing them to the importance of community participation and to their role as facilitators in the developmental process. We also emphasise the need for convergence across departments and the importance of co-ordination among agencies for success in development works. In addition to the conduct of training programmes, we also disseminate information through journals, books, reports, newsletters, CDs, Films and other publications.

The Academy also includes the Administrative Training Institute (ATI). Executive Summary

The Common Guidelines-2008 for watershed projects lays strong emphasis on participatory watershed development for livelihood promotion through capacity building and institutional building, underlines involvement of resource organizations and offers to form resource networks for ensuring multi-disciplinary inputs.

Vasundhara State Level Nodal Agency [VSLNA], Maharashtra entrusted YASHADA, Pune to draft ‘Capacity Building Strategy’ for IWMP to be implemented in the State. The strategy proposes cross-cutting framework ensuring to reach out all stakeholder levels. It was discussed in the core group meeting and principally accepted.

In the context of the shifting paradigm from national level, it was a proactive decision of Hon. Director General to initiate brainstorming on the Common Guidelines-2008. This marked the beginning of YASHADA’s active participation in IWMP (Integrated Watershed Management Programme). Following activities give a clear indication of WMC’s role and efforts in promoting IWMP in the State. Apart from IWMP there are other Projects also for which capacity building Programs are conducted.

With the completion of the first phase of the Jawaharlal Nehru Urban Renewal Mission (2007-12), the Government of India launched Phase II, based on the recommendations of the Ishar Judge Ahluwalia Committee Report. In the second phase, the focus shifts from mere private sector investment in urban infrastructure, to the all-round capacity building of urban local bodies and parastatals. This will result in the setting up of several national level institutes, as well as the strengthening of State Training Institutes and State Institutes of Urban Development, across the country.

Ministry of Urban Development, GoI sponsored Programmes

The State Institute of Urban Development (SIUD) at YASHADA is one of the first beneficiaries of this initiative, and ours was the first proposal in India to be approved, in March 2012. Since then, SIUD has undertaken need-based training programmes to cater to the key target groups working in Maharashtra’s 26 Municipal Corporations and 226 Municipal Councils.

A few details…

The Executive Development Programme is aimed at providing urban knowledge and soft skills (such as media management) to senior and middle level urban managers.

Urban governance for Senior Officers was chiefly intended as a refresher programme for APGDUM graduates, and on an experimental basis, also included orientation in urban matters for the Deputy Collector cadre.

Urban governance for Elected Representatives was the major hit of the year with exclusive courses for Osmanabad and Nanded-Waghala included among the 7 programmes conducted in 2012-13. The highlight of these courses were the site visits and interaction with successful political figures in both Pune and Pimpri-Chinchwad.

The 2 sets of programmes on Schedule XII for 74 CAA groups working in Maharashtra’s 26 Municipal Corporations and 226 Municipal Councils were chiefly intended for the cutting edge staff of ULBs, to enable them to improve their service delivery.

Town Planning Schemes (TPS) are a tool of micro planning, through pooling of private land holdings. These courses were extremely popular as Government of Maharashtra has amended the MRTP Act to optimize efficient land use in the larger cities in the State.

Capital Value Assessment (CVA) is the preferred means of property tax assessment throughout the world and is part of the mandatory reforms under JNURM. It received a massive response and will also be repeated next year.

For the first time, SIUD undertook an inter-agency programme covering town planners, RTO, BEST, PMPML, Municipal Corporations and Traffic Police, on Transport Planning and Traffic Management. There is a scope for at least one such course every year.

Municipal finance and accounting are the heart of the JNURM agenda, and such courses are in great demand and highly appreciated.

The Planning And Management of Urban Infrastructure is a job requiring high coordination between urban parastatals and ULBs. The entry of private parties in this field has added further complexity. SIUD courses on this subject are rated among the best in the country with some of the most experienced faculty regularly participating such as Shri J T Nashikkar, Former Secretary-PWD, Shri Sharad Sabnis, Chief Engineer-PWD and Prof. A M Nene, Management and Financial Consultant. Closely allied to these programmes are the three specialised courses on PPP in Urban Infrastructure, conducted during 2012-13. These PPP programmes make use of the special module developed by the Department of Economic Affairs, Government of India.

HUDCO Chair, Ministry of Housing and Urban Poverty Alleviation, GoI

Another key recommendation of the Ahluwalia Committee is the merger of the Ministries of Urban Development and Housing and Urban Poverty Alleviation at the Central level, and the Departments of Urban Development and Housing at the State level. Anticipating such a convergence, the SIUD has revived the HUDCO Chair, and conducted courses in 2012-13, summarised below:

Meanwhile, SIUD’s flagship programme, the Advanced Post-Graduate Diploma in Urban Management (University of Mumbai) was further consolidated by the setting up of a Board of Studies by the University. This year we have also entirely revamped the syllabus and reading material to make it contemporary and relevant to the emerging urban realities.

The last batch visited Beijing and Shanghai in China, as part of their foreign exposure visit, and graduated in 2012.

The current APGDUM batch has completed its domestic study tour of Chennai and Kochi in February 2013. They were hosted by the Chennai Municipal Corporation at their historic Ripon Building Offices, and the highlight of the Kochi tour was a visit to the Rajeev Gandhi Transshipment Terminal, organised by the Municipal Corporation.

Summarising, as the urban sector in India moves centre-stage in national planning, the SIUD is poised for further growth in the years to come, and will always be at the national forefront for capacity building in the urban sector.

Projects

   Maharashtra State published its first Human Development Report (MHDR) in 2002. Government assigned the responsibility of preparing second MHDR to YASHADA. CHD, after going through the process of stakeholders’ workshops, research, data compilation and analysis have arrived at the first draft of MHDR. The eminent experts in the field of education, economics and health have contributed their papers in the report. UNDP has provided the technical support. The report is in the process of Government approval.

2. Kishori Utkarsh Manch
   CHD after the gender review of schools in 2011-12 suggested a scheme of Kishori Utkarsh Manch to improve enrollment and retention of girls in schools. The scheme is accepted by Rashtriy Madhymik Shiksha Abhiyan and the scheme will be implemented in all 1500 Government schools. CHD has prepared operational guidelines for the same.

Training

UTKARSH

Capacity building of Headmasters and Teachers under Rashtriya Madhymik Shiksha Abhiyan (RMSA) was one of the significant projects undertaken by CHD since 2009-10. The programme was funded by Maharashtra Prathmik Shikshan parishad, Mumbai. The programme titled UTKARSH (Upgrading Teachers’ Knowledge and Attitude towards reforming Schools) has targeted 20000 teachers of secondary schools in Maharashtra. 395 Master Trainers were prepared for the purpose. In 2012-13 UTKARSH aimed at building capacity of teachers for dealing with adolescents. This massive task was conducted with the help of experts in the field of education. The post impact evaluation, by the third agency, of the teachers indicates significant change in the learning.
Research and evaluation

1. Evaluation of Schemes under Human Development programme

Human development programme is implemented by the Human Development Commissionate, Aurangabad in 125 blocks of Maharashtra. The CHD evaluated 8 schemes in 17 blocks of Maharashtra. The results indicate that the schemes of Antenatal check up, Training of Adolescent girls have significant impact. While the schemes of 'Abhyasika' in schools, Kitchen garden, Skill training of youths have the limited outputs.

2. Policy research on Right to Education Act

As per RTE, any child cannot be detained in the same standard till 14 years of age. The Government has announced the implementation of Continuous and Comprehensive Evaluation (CCE) in schools with that effect. Another major provision in RTE is the age appropriate enrollment of an out of school child in schools. The responsibility of educational preparation of the child is on the school.

Maharashtra Prathmik Shikshan Parishad (MPSP) assigned the responsibility to suggest the guidelines i) for improving CCE and ii) for promoting retention of enrolled children. CHD after extensive study of the literature, through the stakeholders' workshops, by case studies of schools and studying the good practices in other states have prepared guidelines for age appropriate enrollment and CCE. The major policy change suggested is an in-built system of CCE is required in schools which will also result into retention of age appropriate children. This can be achieved by adopting the practice of activity based learning (ABL) in schools. ABL will allow multilevel teaching in each class.

Under this provision the National Resource Center for Urban Poverty Alleviation was assigned the task of preparation of environment development plans for Grampanchayats 'Tardal' and 'Hatkanangale' in Kolhapur district. The process of developing plans for these two Gram Panchayats is undertaken with dual purpose:

- To develop a methodology of planning process for larger Gram Panchayats which is a blend of technical aspects from town planning and participatory processes
- To develop guidelines for other agencies in Maharashtra to undertake such a process.
- The pilot assumes significance in view of the fact that today’s large sized villages are future towns and need proper planning using the town planning principles, however, at present there is no suitable legal-policy framework for planning of such transition settlements. A technical plan with support of a 6-day participatory process has been developed for Tardal Gram Panchayat. The same has been submitted to the Zilla Parishad, Kolhapur.
